ALL THIS LIVING!

When I grow up I want to be an old woman

SEASON 20-31st May 2015

Each wrinkle and crinkle holds secrets, surprises and stories. They can be stroked, rubbed and squeezed to help bring out the treasures, just touch and ask.

This contemporary, solo work packed with humour, home truths, mythical stories and leaps of imagination invites us into Jay's story. Anti-aging ads and invisibility have worried her but ignored once too often as 'just an old woman' she sets out to investigate what this third stage of life is. Inside her is plenty piled up but out there...?

"Blunden commands an impressive presence"

THE CANBERRA TIMES

Acclaimed Canberra theatre maker Camilla Blunden, of Women on a Shoestring fame, brings Jay and her journey to us inspired by a series of conversations with older women of Canberra. Together with a team of exceptional ACT artists she has created a disarmingly intimate work filled with offbeat anecdotes and soul-baring revelations challenging us to see and value all ages.
