

Searching for Identity in a Multicultural World

Saturday 27 August 2016, 11:00am – 3:00pm

(Light Lunch will be served, RSVP please)

Venue: Sir Roland Wilson Building, 1.02 Theatrette, ANU
120 McCoy Circuit, Acton, ACT 2601

A Free Workshop organised by Initiatives For Women In Need (IWiN)
Supported By ANU Gender Institute and ACT Government Community Services

Why this workshop

- An important aspect of all IWiN events is advocacy and awareness generation related to gender and identity.
- Issues like gender equality are intertwined and intrinsically connected to the notion of identity and culture. Thus any discussions on gender must incorporate culture and identity. What does it mean to be a man or a woman or for that matter how do issues like intersectionality affect us, in an increasingly multicultural world?
- This workshop will explore these notions and how identity and society work together to play a role in the experiences of individuals.

please join us

- If you are as excited as us by the promise of getting to discuss gender from multiple perspectives with interesting guest speakers. Speakers include eminent experts from Australian National University and University of Canberra among others.
- The workshop will include a segment called "Courageous Conversations", where guest speakers will share their personal experiences. This will be followed by lunch and a Q&A panel session.
- The Q&A session will be led by invited panel members, experts in their respective fields and the panel moderator will facilitate discussions with the audience members. Our panellists are from the following areas:
 - Policy
 - Legal
 - Police
 - Men's Organisation
 - Women's Organisation
