

Cultures of Crisis: Mapping Women's Knowledge and Activism in the Asia Pacific

Dr Maria Tanyag, IR Department, Coral Bell School of Asia Pacific Affairs

Grant details

Funding was requested from the Gender Institute to support my proposed research project which seeks to generate a preliminary thematic mapping of how Asia-Pacific women's traditional and everyday knowledge. This knowledge, I argue, will potentially serve as indispensable source of inclusive and durable solutions urgently required by global security agendas today. Theoretically, this research will advance an innovative research agenda that re-signifies the importance of feminist approaches to epistemology and standpoint theory and 'Third World' transnational social movements for contemporary understanding of global threats and crises. The funding constituted critical support in developing my planned Discovery Early Career Researcher Award (DECRA) research project submitted in February 2022.

	Project/event details	Impact
1	Seminar presentation for the Women in Asia Pacific Security (WIAPSR) Research seminar series, Wednesday, 20 October 2021, 11:00AM - 12:30PM AEST The seminar presented preliminary insights from the research project and valuable feedback from audience were incorporated. Recording available here: https://youtu.be/WhHOJS822us and https://anuwiiis.wixsite.com/anuwiiis/how-asia-pacific-can-lead-global-peace	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>○ Audience for the seminar included members from the Coral Bell School, The Graduate Research and Development Network on Asian Security (GRADNAS), and the Gender Institute. [mix of ANU internals and externals; and different career levels]</li><li>○ The event was an excellent addition to the seminar series because it included a specific feminist lens to the themes showcased for that year.</li></ul>
2	ARC DECRA application submitted (DE23) Application now currently under review and it indicated the availability of institutional support from Gender Institute.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>○ The grant allowed me to strengthen the DECRA project and demonstrate its value and significance for building a research agenda on Asia Pacific women's networks.</li></ul>
3	Journal article (drafting phase) Target journal: Journal of Peace Research (Impact factor 4; top 10 of International Relations Journal; A* ranked according to the Australian Political Science Association)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>○ Expected outcomes will include scholarly contribution emphasising Asia Pacific women's networks as collective theorists of peace and security.</li></ul>